How to Share This Book

Social stories gently walk a child through a situation and model calm, kind choices. Read this book together, more than once. The repetition is what helps - it lets a child rehearse the feelings and choices before the real moment happens.

This book helps a child understand the feeling, see that it is normal, and practice calm, kind choices - before the real moment happens.

How to use it

- ☐ Read the story slowly and out loud, pointing at the pictures.
- ☐ Read it again on calm days - not only in the hard moment.
- ☐ Pause to let your child color, answer, or act out the pages.
- ☐ Praise effort and calm tries, not perfection.
- ☐ Use the calm-down tools together so they feel familiar later.

The Story

My First Day of School

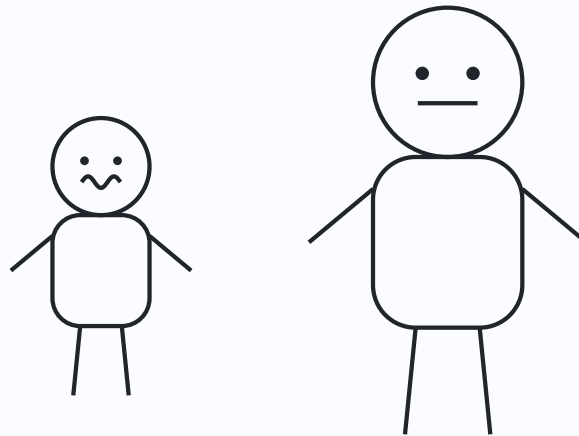

Tomorrow is my first day of school.

My tummy feels wiggly and my thoughts are busy.

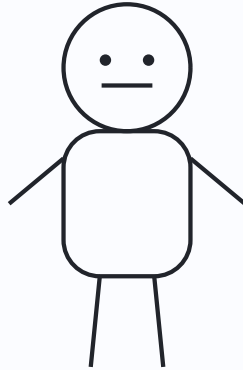

I feel lots of feelings at once.

A little excited. A little worried. That is okay - feelings can mix.

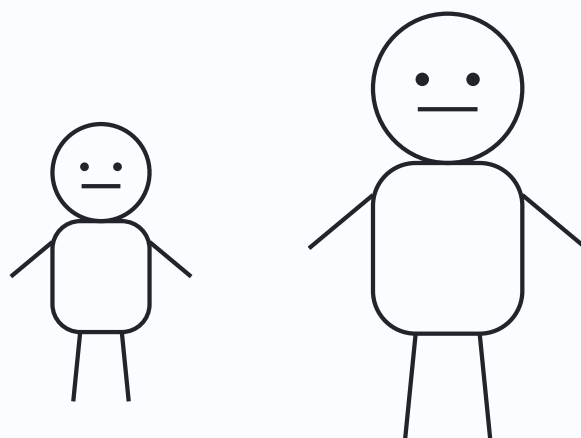

My grown-up says, 'It is normal to feel nervous about something new.'

'I will bring you and pick you up. You are safe.'

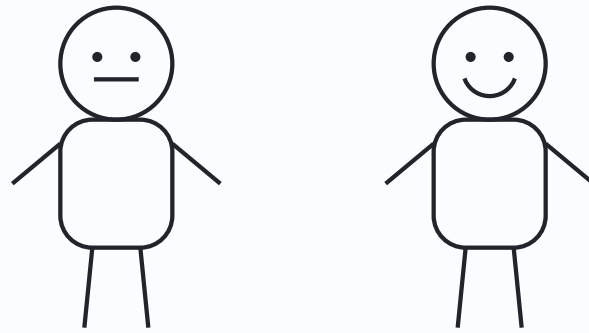

In the morning, I take a slow breath.

I remember: new things get easier once I try them.

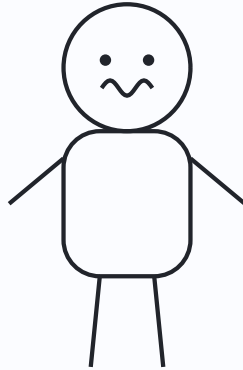

At school, my teacher smiles and says hello.

She shows me where to put my bag and where I will sit.

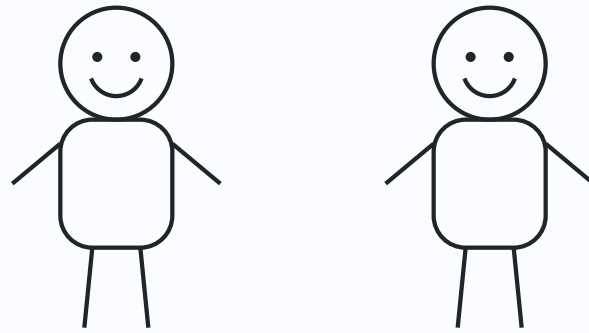

I see other kids. Some look nervous too.

I am not the only one with big feelings today.

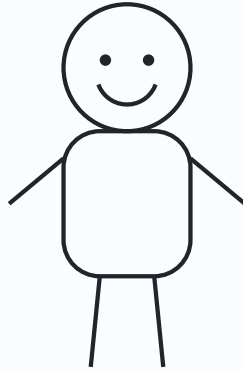

I miss my grown-up a little.

When I feel that way, I take a breath and remember they will come back.

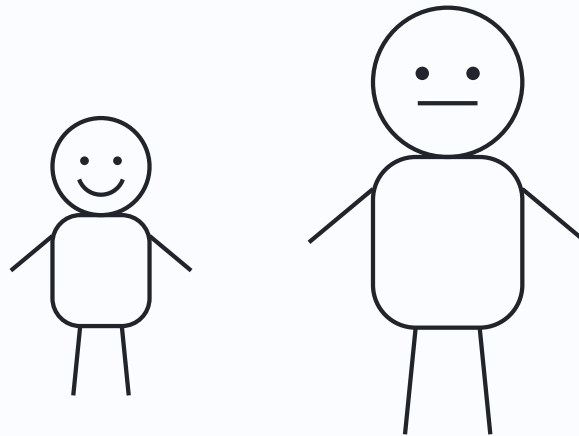

I find a friend to play with.

We build blocks and read a story together.

The day goes by faster than I thought.

I did lots of new things - and I was brave.

My grown-up comes back, just like they promised.

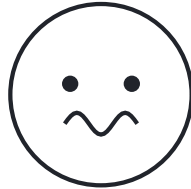

I tell them all about my first day. I did it!

How I Feel About School

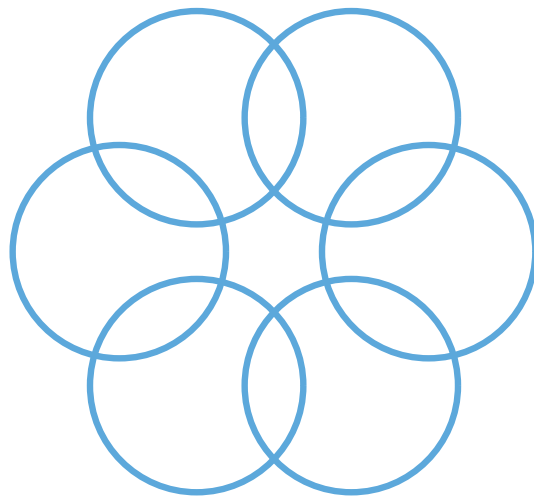

● Something I feel excited about is...

● Something I feel nervous about is...

● Something that will help me be brave is...

Bumblebee Breathing

Trace the shape slowly with your finger while you breathe. Do it a few times until your body feels calmer.

1. Breathe in slowly through your nose.
2. Breathe out with a soft humming 'mmm' like a bee.
3. Feel the buzz calm your body.
4. Do it a few times before school.

What Would You Do?

Read each situation together. There are many good choices! Talk it through, then write or draw what you could do.

1 You do not know where to sit on the first day.

What could you do?

2 You feel shy about saying hello to a new kid.

What could you do?

3 You miss your grown-up in the middle of the day.

What could you do?
